JUNIOR-SENIOR COUNTY FAIR WELL ATTENDED

Senior Class Hear Their Most Cherished Secrets Boldly Divulged

The junior-senior county fair, Sunday, May 8, was declared a financial and social success, both by the juniors and the seniors; by the seniors because of the cheapness of beans, and the juniors because of the large quantity of beans regained—especially at George Mathews' shooting gallery.

At one o'clock the seniors who had assembled at the college gate, were loaded into two hayracks and hustled southward. They were led by a brass band, which was transported in a dump truck. Even Sutter's herd of fifty beautiful Jersey cows leaped ravines and hurdled stumps in order to follow the siren music of this band. (Maurice Hoatson broke the bass drum during one of the periods of ecstasy.) Finally the charioteers reached a green coulee over two miles southeast of College View.

Here the sign "Juno-Senior County Fair" had an illuminating effect upon ponderous senior intelligences. And when tents were seen in the distance, with juniors moving about, the seniors saw method in junior madness.

President Stenberg passed out the bean-money as the seniors crossed the foot bridge and passed into the fair grounds. In the first gallery seniors saw themselves as others see them. In the second, besides two snakes, a fat woman, and a litter of pups, they saw the only left-handed fiddler in captivity. Besides these attractive

WRITERS' CLUB HAVE FESTIVE CELEBRATION AT LAST MEETING

Members Present Gift to Miss Philmon

A double surprise was enjoyed by the members of the Writers' Club at their last meeting, Thursday, May 5. After several manuscripts had been read and criticized, Mr. Altman asked permission to make a speech. He presented to Miss Philmon, in behalf of the club, a beautiful wall vase and a box of Hallmark pink sweet peas. The presentation speech was acclaimed a masterpiece of oratory. Miss Philmon expressed the belief that there was an Achan in the camp, as she remembered having confided to some one her weakness for wall vases.

After a few more manuscripts were read Miss Philmon turned the surprise on the club by having little booklets, with pencils attached, passed for an impromptu verse contest. Mr. Altman's verse was voted to be the best, and he was presented with a handy note-book and pencil, it being intended to aid him in further versification.

The best surprise of the day came when Miss Philmon's assistants served the twenty-four members present with ice-cream and wafers. The refreshments were in harmony with the color scheme of the occasion, lavender and cream.

Later the club adjourned to the rock pile, where a picture of the club was taken.

ROGER ALTMAN

ROGER ALTMAN TO RETURN TO MALAYSIAN MISSION FIELD

President of Clock Tower Board Will Sail for Singapore in July

Roger Altman, a member of the class of '27 and president of the Clock Tower board, has accepted a call to the Malaysian mission field. Mr. Altman previously labored in this field, having edited the Malay "Signs of the Times" from 1920 to 1923. He is returning to resume the editorship of this publication and also of the Malaysian church paper, which corresponds to the English "Review and Herald."

Mr. Altman has edited the "Christian Record," a publication for the blind, for the past four years. He had charge of the Union College Press during the year 1925-26.

Mr. Altman is a former Campion student and was graduated there in the class of '13. He was employed in the educational department of the General Conference when he was called to the Malaysian field in 1920. He has attended Union College during the past three years, and will take his bachelor's degree this spring.

Mr. Altman has traveled extensively, having spent eleven years in England, Scotland, and Ireland, as well as two years in Africa where he went with his father, M. A. Altman, who was engaged in evangelistic work in the Natal-Transvaal Conference.

Mr. and Mrs. Altman plan to sail for Singapore in July.

BIG WEEK

Four hundred Big Week books were taken by the students of Union College, in chapel, Wednesday morning, May 4. The following Wednesday, May 11, was field day and those who had ordered books spent the day canvassing.

UNION AWARDED TWO FIRST PRIZES IN "SIGNS" CONTEST

Prizes Presented to "Watchman" and "Signs" Winners in Chapel May 2

Union College has again taken a first place among the Seventh-day Adventist colleges in the recent "Signs" writers' contest. Gerald Minchin and Mrs. L. W. Beardsley submitted articles which were adjudged superior contributions, and Howard Welch, Emil Sauer, Dorothy Foreman, Solomon Ammon, and Walter Thomas submitted articles which were given honorable mention.

During the chapel period, Monday, May 2, the prizes won in this contest, as well as those of the "Watchman" contest which closed recently, were awarded. Union College students took a greater number of prizes in both these contests than did any other college.

Mr. Minchin and Mrs. Beardsley each received a check from the "Signs of the Times." Those who were given honorable mention each received a valuable book as a prize. Miss Philmon read a letter from F. D. Nichol, editor of the "Signs," to Mr. Minchin. This was representative of the welcome superior contributions received into the regular family of "Signs" writers.

Dorothy Foreman, Helen Gardner, and George Stotz, winners in the "Watchman" contest received their awards at this time. Miss Foreman and Miss Gardner were each presented with a leather bound set of "Desire of Ages," "Great Controversy," "Daniel and Revelation," and "Patriarchs and Prophets." George Stotz received a bound volume of the "Watchman Magazine" for 1926.

ENTIRE SCHOOL ATTENDS PICNIC AT EPWORTH

Boat Riding and Eating Feature as Main Entertainment

In spite of the cold weather and strong wind the annual school picnic was celebrated Monday, May 9, at Epworth Park. Six busses were chartered by the college to take the students to the park, and they left the campus promptly at 9:45 Monday morning. Evidently all were bent on having a good time, judging from the number of tennis rackets, cameras, and baseball outfits which were in evidence.

When the crowd arrived at the picnic grounds, a wild rush was staged for possession of the nine boats, and in order to prevent monopolization of the fleet, a small charge was made for the use of them. This fee did not seem to affect the enthusiasm of the amateur mariners, for the entire fleet was busy all day. Other attractions were games of horse-shoe, tennis, and baseball.

The most effective check to the games came when Professor Thiel started beating a tray with a stick. This was understood to be the signal to come to dinner. A double line was soon formed extending back nearly a

KINZER SUFFERS LOSS WHILE TOURING COLORADO

Humann Brothers Report Splendid Success on Concert Tour

According to reports received from the Humann brothers, who are on a concert tour in Colorado, Mr. Kinzer had a little bad luck along with the good time he is having on the trip. They left Shelton early in the morning, arriving in Sterling, Colo., in time for dinner. They left the car out by the curb while they went into a restaurant for dinner. When they returned they discovered that Mr. Kinzer's brief case, containing his shaving outfit and all the notes for the speeches he planned to make on the trip, had disappeared. They are still wondering if there really could be anyone so mean as to steal such important articles.

Mr. Kinzer's Hudson has made good time on the road, the only car that passed it being a Buick, according to Elder S. E. Wight. It is supposed that this Buick is similar to the one Elder Wight drives. Mr. Kinzer's car ran out of gas once on the trip, but it was evidently near a filling station. In many places the roads were very bad on account of heavy rains.

The Humann brothers gave a concert in the First Baptist church in Denver to an audience of over fifteen hundred. They sang before a full house in Boulder. They report that they have been royally treated every place they have been.

George Mathews Elected to Faculty of Campion Academy

George M. Mathews, associate editor of the Clock Tower, has accepted a position as preceptor and science instructor at Campion Academy next year. Mr. Mathews was Missionary Volunteer and educational secretary of the Carolina Conference before coming to Union. He attended the Southwestern Junior College at Keene, Tex., graduating in 1924. He is a member of the junior class at Union this year.

PROFESSOR ENGEL ILL

Professor C. C. Engel has been ill this past week. He has been compelled to take a rest, which he has needed for some time.

ALUMNI GIVE OUT PLANS FOR ANNUAL BANQUET

Doctor Charles Patterson to Deliver Principal Address

Doctor Charles Patterson, of the University of Nebraska, will give the alumni address at the annual alumni banquet, to be given in South Hall, Sunday, May 15, at 6:30 p. m. Other speakers are President Leo Thiel and Professor Homer F. Saxton. The dinner will consist of four courses, the speeches and the musical numbers being interspersed between courses. Professor C. C. Engel's orchestra and the Humann Brothers Quartet will give the main music numbers. Guests will be received at South Hall at 6:30 by a junior reception committee, and will be escorted to the parlor where they will engage in an informal social hour until the grand march to the dining room. Members of the junior class will serve at the dinner.

At this meeting of the alumni association there will be no special business to be considered except the election of new officers. Professor Homer F. Saxton is tendering his resignation from the presidency; and the positions of vice-president, treasurer, secretary, and historical secretary will also have to be filled, since they regularly become vacant.

All graduates of Union College, including the 1927 graduates of the college and professional classes, are eligible to attend the banquet and are cordially invited by the association to be present.

The charge will be sixty cents a plate, and tickets will be on sale both in the college business office and in Rhodes' grocery store from now until 6:30 p. m., Sunday, May 15. The alumni committee are expecting to have at least 150 guests present.

GOLDEN CORDS ANNUAL CEREMONY HELD

Cords Hung for the Twenty-six Mis- sionaries Sent Out in 1926

"We are coming to a different phase in the propagation of the gospel. American leadership is not in as great demand today as before 1918. We must turn more of our interests toward home missions," declared President Leo Thiel in his speech at the Missionary Volunteer meeting, Friday evening, May 6.

The other speakers were Howard Welch and Professor H. U. Stevens. Mr. Welch said that a Christian who does not make other Christians is as a fire without heat or as a flame without light and that this principle is the foundation idea of the golden cords. Professor Stevens further developed the mission idea by saying, "We must enter with Christ into mission work, in order to know a little of the cost of salvation." He also stated that he had seen prophecy fulfilled in watching young people standing in courts and legislative halls pleading the cause of Christ.

While Karl Schmitz played softly on the organ, the golden cords for Union's 1926 missionaries were hung. Cords were placed for the following: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Larsen, China; spots there was a lemonade stand, a merry-go-round, and a fortune telling booth. But the center of attraction was Mr. Mathews' shooting gallery. Here the seniors wasted "gobs" of money trying to hit the "nigger baby" twice in succession.

JUNIOR-SENIOR COUNTY FAIR

At three o'clock the crowd entered the grandstand and watched the finals of the races which were advertised to be "three-hundred-mile-an-hour races." Following the races, a senior-junior ball game was called. But by this time the wind had reached such a velocity that it interfered with the game, and the juniors won by the one-sided score, 16-8.

After the lunch, the seniors assembled in the amphitheatre and the juniors presented a mock "class night-commencement" program. As the seniors gazed and listened; their class secrets were boldly paraded before them. At the close of this Judas-like scene, as the seniors acclaimed it, Mr. Altman, in the absence of President Specht, who was at home nursing a face that looked like an "isosceles triangle," expressed in a few words the appreciation and wonder of the seniors. In closing he said, "We will all remember this occasion long after the clock in the clock tower ceases to tick and the water in the water tower ceases to drip."

PRE-MEDICS ATTEND ANNUAL PRE-MEDIC DAY

Motor to Omaha and Back May 6

Friday, May 6, more than twenty pre-med students from Union College motored over to Omaha to attend Annual Pre-med day at the University of Nebraska College of Medicine. The party left the campus about 5:00 a. m. At 9:00 o'clock they were taken on a tour of inspection through the laboratories and following that was a welcome address given by Dr. J. Jay Keegan, dean of the college. At 10:30 the clinics, conducted by Dr. B. B. Davis and J. E. Summers, began. Between three and four hundred students watched four major operations, and listened to careful explanations by the surgeons in charge. Several took luncheon at fraternity houses with friends, while others were served at the hospital cafeteria. They started homeward about 2:00 p. m. and reported a very pleasant and profitable visit.

ALTMAN TO GO TO MALAYSIA

Professor D. D. Rees, former educational and Missionary Volunteer secretary of the Central Union Conference, has accepted the editorship of the "Christian Record," to take Mr. Altman's place. Professor Rees is editor of the "Central Union Outlook" at present. He will assume his new duties early in the summer.

SPECHT "GOT THE MUMPS"

A great deal of apprehension was caused in the senior class when Oswald Specht, class president, discovered that he had contracted the popular ailment, mumps. Several members of the class have been exposed, and it is expected that some will be entertaining the mumps instead of attending the commencement exercises next week.

PROFESSOR HILTS ATTENDS NATIONAL ORATORICAL CONTEST

D. G. Hilts, instructor in public speaking and English, attended the semi-finals of the national oratorical contest held at Convention Hall, Kansas City, Mo., Saturday night, May 7. Carl Albert, an eighteen-year-old chap of McAlester, Okla., won first prize—a trip to Europe. William Lavelle, of Ohio, won second, and the only girl in the contest, Alfa Christianson, of Chippewa Falls, Wis., won third place.

The national oratorical contest has for its universal subject the "Constitution" and is fostered by the association of newspapers.

The Academy

Professor Habenicht entertained the junior class at his home, Saturday night, April 30. Professor Habenicht is the class sponsor.

Thursday morning, May 12, the academy seniors will have charge of the chapel exercises. The program will be similar to the class night exercises of the college senior class. Everyone is welcome to attend this program.

The College View Missionary Volunteer Society was organized Friday morning, May 6, in the academy chapel by John Deapen, Nebraska Missionary Volunteer secretary. It is to continue throughout the year. The officers chosen for the following year are: leader, Lila Baer; assistant, Elmer Robertson; secretary, Esther Sonnenberg; assistant secretary, Genevieve Dunn.

Last Thursday morning the student committee had charge of the chapel exercises. During the program Professor McCully and Mrs. Pingnot were called on to sing the college song. Professor Habenicht accompanied them at the piano.

The Home and School Association has chosen a permanent executive committee to consider plans for its work during the summer. Professor Habenicht has been chosen leader of the boys and Mrs. Forrest Leffingwell, leader of the girls. The last meeting is to be Thursday night, May 12. At this time the vital question of recreation for the boys and girls of College View will be taken up. Work similar to the Boy Scout and Girl Reserve movement is being planned for the summer months.

The parents of the eighth grade pupils entertained them at a picnic, Sunday, May 1.

"HOLY CITY" GIVEN BY COLLEGE CHORUS

The oratorio, "The Holy City," by Gaul, was given by the college chorus of eighty voices, under the direction of Professor W. I. Morey, Saturday evening, May 7. The chapel was well filled; several extra chairs were brought in.

The personnel of the solo quartet was as follows: Grace Buck, soprano; Jeanette Hawley, contralto; William M. Robinson, tenor; and Wesley Rhodes, baritone.

While Elma Fish, the accompanist, played the beautiful solo, "Adoration," a silver offering was taken.

The chorus, "They that sow in tears shall reap in joy," was especially well rendered. The audience was especially delighted with the baritone solo, "A new heaven and a new earth," as echoes from the worship around the throne of God, the choral sanctus, "Holy, Holy, Holy," came in during the pauses of the solo. These echoes were again heard in the last chorus, "Great and marvelous are thy works." This chorus was a grand paean of praise and honor to the omnipotent Father above.

1000 TREATMENTS GIVEN BY TREATMENT ROOMS

Elstrom To Head Health Department

The treatment rooms, under the direction of R. L. Elstrom, have been serving both students and public. Over a thousand treatments have been given since the opening of the fall term.

Besides the treatments and care of injuries, two classes have been conducted in this department. About fifteen students took hydrotherapy the first semester, and twelve are taking first-aid now. Those taking first-aid are granted a Red Cross certificate and a certificate for general nursing from the General Conference.

The board plans to incorporate the treatment rooms, gymnasium, and health conservation under one department next year with Mr. Elstrom as head. Mr. Elstrom plans to take advanced work in gymnasium at the university this summer. Although the treatment rooms are well equipped, it is planned to put the profits into improvements beginning next fall. Opportunity will be given next year for three students to earn one-half of their college expenses by working in this department.

Miss Philmon Talks to State Reformatory Boys

Thursday evening, May 5, Miss Rochelle Philmon talked to the boys at the state reformatory. She was given her usual hearty welcome by the boys, who always look forward to her coming.

Miss Philmon took as her subject "The Abstract and the Concrete in Life," illustrating her idea with many concrete examples. She told the boys that she likes to see people who not only are good but who do good—people you can point to and say, "I know that this fellow has a good heart because he did this for me." She said that their own mothers are the best examples of this concrete love that the boys would ever know. They especially appreciated her reading Tennyson's poem, "Rizpah," which illustrates the love of a mother for her boy even though he has done wrong. Several expressed their personal appreciation after the service.

Harold McCully sang "Mother Machree" at the close of Miss Philmon's talk.

These Thursday evening meetings at the reformatory have been conducted by the students of Union College for more than a year; and the boys, as well as the officials of the institution, seem to appreciate the work that is being done.

S. A. HIGH GIVES ADDRESS ON PROHIBITION

Collection Taken for Support of Anti-Saloon League

S. A. High, superintendent of the Nebraska Anti-Saloon League, spoke at the church service, Sabbath morning, May 7. His topic was the imminent conflict of the "wets" and "drys" to amend the Volstead Act in order to allow light wines and beers to be sold. He stated that the "wets" are not trying to repeal the eighteenth amendment or bring back the saloons, but to amend the Volstead act so that ninety-seven per cent of the liquor traffic will be brought back. A subscription and offering for the support of the league in Nebraska was taken up at the close of the meeting.

Program Given in Honor of Mothers

On the evening of May 8th, a Mother's Day program was given in the Seventh-day Adventist church under the auspices of the college Missionary Volunteer Society. Several large bouquets of lilacs and tulips decorated the platform. The audience was rather small, but very attentive. The following program was given:

Mother Machree—Double Male Quartet
Prayer—Elder Baer
Your Mother—Mrs. George Mathews
Why I Like Gray—Eugene Elstrom
Cuddy—Ivamae Small-Hilts
Mother o' My Heart—Helen Jones

SIGMA IOTA KAPPA

On Thursday evening, May 5, Professor Thiel told the young men of South Hall about the queer people back in the mountains of Kentucky, Tennessee, and Virginia. He told of having seen an elderly woman who lived twenty-three miles from a railroad but had never seen a train. He expressed the desire that some college students would go back and work among these people, as there is a good opportunity to do a great work for them.

The HOME STRETCH

MANY of you are now on the last lap of your college life. Soon you'll be playing a part in the "big show." Your responsibilities will grow. Interests will become wide and varied. But don't forget one thing—the folks at home. Remember how you kept in touch with them during student days by telephone?

MOTHER and DAD! Nothing pleased them more than those talks by telephone. They brought you back to them. They brought home nearer to you.
