SCIENTIST TO GIVE SECOND NUMBER OF LECTURE COURSE

Experiments with Electrical Apparatus to Be Performed by R. B. Ambrose in His Entertainment

R. B. Ambrose, scientific lecturer-entertainer, will speak in the college chapel, Saturday evening, October 29. This will be the second number of the college lecture course. Mr. Ambrose calls his entertainment, "The Scientific Story," preferring not to have it considered under the broad title of a lecture. Practically all the apparatus used in this entertainment was made by him.

His experiments with electrical apparatus of various kinds, combined with his knowledge of radio, led to his engaging in platform lecture demonstrations which he has conducted with great success in many parts of the country.

Among his many experiments are the welding of nails by electricity, permitting the current to pass through his body; holding two carbons in his hands to form an arc light; firing a cannon and sending a flag up the flag pole by use of rays from an ordinary flashlight; controlling lights and power by radio, taking power out of the air. He does not rely on trickery, but makes application of little known physical and electrical laws that lend themselves well to interesting demonstrations.

Mr. Ambrose lightens his lecture with laughter and pungent witticisms. He says in a recent letter: "Because I weigh two hundred pounds and have always been the center of a laugh area (as a meteorologist would say) I find many things to laugh about while I am on the platform—sometimes I try to point them out to my audience. I believe in the laughter of science as well as the science of laughter."

Admission to the lecture will be fifty cents. Season tickets for the lecture course of five numbers are $2.00.

DAY OF FASTING AND PRAYER OB- SERVED AT COLLEGE

Special Prayer Offered for Missionaries in China

Sabbath, October 22, was observed as a day of fasting and prayer at the college, in harmony with the request of the Fall Council. Special prayer was offered for the missionaries and the work in troubled China. A large number of students remained in their rooms and prayed for the safety of the faithful missionaries, many of whom are former Union students, who are now in constant peril in China.

COLLEGE BOARD MEETING TUESDAY

The executive committee and the board of the college met on Tuesday, October 25. A number of important problems were discussed.

Plans Laid for Missionary Work

A large group of students who are interested in missionary activities met with Professor Meiklejohn, chairman of the religious activities committee, Friday evening, October 21, to discuss plans for carrying on missionary work during the school year.

It was proposed that one group of students work with the German people in the Lincoln German church. Another group will hold meetings in the surrounding country on Sunday nights, and a third group plan to visit the near-by churches on Sabbaths, and help in the Sabbath school and church services.

It is believed that much good will be accomplished by the work of these students, and that they will receive valuable training.

NORTH HALL GIRL RECEIVES WORD OF SISTER'S DEATH

Miss Frankie Dearborn Leaves for Home in Kansas

Miss Frankie Dearborn, of North Hall, received word Friday, October 21, of the death of her sister, after a lingering illness, at their home in Valley Falls, Kans. Miss Ethel Dearborn, a former student of Union College, also a sister of the deceased, arrived Friday afternoon from Howells, Nebr., where she is teaching, and both girls left for their home Friday night.

Inside Boys Win Basket-Ball Game

A one-sided basket-ball game was played in the college gymnasium, Saturday evening, October 22, the inside boys winning over the outside boys by a score of 24-6. Raymond White refereed the game.

Last week the outside boys won from the dormitory boys in a hotly contested game by a score of 25-14. Evidently another game will have to be played to decide the championship.

ANNUAL FALL FROLIC PLANNED FOR MONDAY

Dormitory and Outside Students to Join in Hike

Plans are being made for the annual fall hike which is to be held on Monday evening, October 31.

This occasion is always looked forward to by the students. Committees are arranging the students in bands. All of the dormitory students and sixty-one of the outside students plan to go.

"This is not to be a Hallowe'en hike," explained Professor Thiel, "because we do not believe in Hallowe'en. We just happen to have the hike on the last day of October."

H. F. SAXTON RESIGNS POSITION BECAUSE OF ILL HEALTH

Bible Classes Formerly Taught by Professor Saxton Divided Between
Other Teachers

The resignation of Professor Homer F. Saxton, professor of Bible in the theological department of the college for the last four years, became effective last week. Professor Saxton was compelled to resign because of ill health. He plans to live on his farm at Spring Valley, Wis., until his health permits him to resume his work on Union's faculty.

The class in Christ and prophecy which Professor Saxton has been teaching will be taught by Professor H. U. Stevens. The doctrines of Christ class will be conducted by Professor W. W. Prescott. The college management plan to secure a teacher for synthetic Bible soon. Mrs. Saxton plans to continue her work in the commercial department this semester.

Professor Saxton is a graduate of Union, being a member of the class of 1919. He was engaged in ministerial work in the Colorado Conference following his graduation.

For two years preceding his coming to Union he was principal of Enterprise Academy, Enterprise, Kans. His work was made especially inspirational by his advanced study in a Bible Institute in New York City the past summer.

Professor Saxton states: "I resign entirely because of ill health and I deeply regret it. To offer my resignation is one of the hardest things I have ever done. My wife and I have had very pleasant associations here. We hope it will not be long until my health permits our return."

Humann Brothers to Give Concert at Enterprise

The Humann brothers quartet will motor to Enterprise, Kans., October 28, where they will give the first number of the Enterprise Academy lecture course, on Saturday night, October 29. Miss Marcella Engel will play the piano accompaniment. Professor C. C. Engel will play two violin selections on the program. He will take the boys to Enterprise in his car.

College View to Have New Creamery

A new creamery is being erected by Sutter's Sanitary Dairy, one-half mile south of College View on L street. The building is a 40 x 60 brick structure, consisting of a bottling room, laboratory, wash room, cheese and butter room, and an office. The interior walls are to be finished in hard white, and the floors, red glazed. The entire building will be absolutely sanitary, and all the equipment will be new and up-to-date, according to George Sutter.

Twelve hundred quarts of milk an hour can be handled by this equipment for twenty-four consecutive hours.

The products put out by the new creamery will be cottage cheese, butter, butter-milk, pimento cheese, and cocoa malt. In connection with the creamery there is also to be an ice service station.

UNION COLLEGE RADIO PROGRAMS APPRECI- ATED BY MANY

Letter of Appreciation Received from Lieutenant-Governor of Nebraska

Radio Station KFAB, which broadcasts programs given by Union College talent every Sunday night, received the following letter from George A. Williams, Lieutenant-Governor of Nebraska:

"I feel that it would be very unfair for us longer to enjoy the Sunday evening program rendered by the Union College Symphony Orchestra under the able leadership of Professor C. C. Engel without an expression of our appreciation.

"It is certainly a very great pleasure as well as a relief to shut out the air-filled jazz and enjoy an evening of such high class musical entertainment. There is due Professor Engel and the members of his orchestra our most sincere thanks and congratulations for the splendid service and pleasure rendered us and the radio audience generally.

"Also I desire to commend the management of KFAB for the discriminating choice of entertainment. Not only are the programs fine but they come to us perfectly."

Among many others, Professor Engel received the following letter, written by Reuben Schmitt, Springfield, Mo.:

"I am writing in praise of the wonderful concert we have enjoyed this evening. You have our thanks, praise, and sincerest compliments. The program was excellent and came in very

DOCTOR ANDERSON VISITS FRIENDS HERE

Dr. S. B. Anderson, class of '21, stopped in College View, October 22 and 23 to visit Dr. Cecil Lovell and other friends in the village.

Doctor Anderson was en route from Detroit, where he attended the recent convention of the American College of Surgeons, to his home in Burbank, Calif., where he is practicing.

CLOCK TOWER SUB- SCRIPTION CAMPAIGN BEGINS OCTOBER 24

Four College Classes and Faculty to Compete for Prizes and Entertainment
in Three Weeks' Campaign

The second Clock Tower subscription campaign was started at the chapel hour October 24. Mr. Andress introduced the campaign, and Mr. Culver set forth the plans, which are as follows:

The school was divided into five classes with leaders as follows: freshmen, Walter Howe; sophomores, Loyd Gould; juniors, Rudolph Johnson; seniors, Elden Peterson; faculty, Professor Wilcox. The contest closes November 5.

The winning class, together with all those who turn in at least six paid subscriptions, are to be given an entertainment, the nature of which is to be announced later. Every member of the winning class must have at least two subscriptions to be included in the entertainment.

Prizes are to be awarded each week to the individual turning in the highest number of paid subscriptions. The first week the winner will receive either a table runner with the Union College emblem on it, or a photograph album, depending on his choice. The one who turns in the most subscriptions during the whole campaign will receive a prize worth about fifteen dollars.

Returns of the contest are to be compiled and posted daily.

Pep meetings were held by each of the divisions at the close of chapel from which snatches of the college song and shouts of anticipated victory could be heard.

DR. CUTLER RECEIVES ADDITIONAL APPOINTMENT

Former Union Student to Work with Dr.
H. G. Wells in Chicago University

Dr. Oran I. Cutler, class of '24, who after his graduation spent a number of months in Central America and following this served for one year in the pathology department at the White Memorial Hospital, has just completed a year's service under Dr. Ophuls in the department of pathology at the Leland Stanford University Medical School. His service at Leland Stanford has been under the direction and support of the National Research Council under a fellowship appointment. Dr. Cutler has just received word of a second year's appointment of the same kind under which he will spend the time with Dr. H. G. Wells in the pathology department at the University of Chicago. Dr. Cutler is planning to work as a pathologist and is securing an unusually good training in this field.

The foregoing article is copied from "The Medical Evangelist," of October 13. Doctor Cutler graduated from Union College in the class of '20.

Editorial

Pep? Yes, Union has lots of it. If you don't think so, just look at the way the subscription drive is going over. Anything slow about it? Not that we have noticed, and most of the groups are just getting up momentum. Wait until next week. Watch the bulletin board for the leaders. It isn't long before the end of the week, and we are wondering who will be the proud possessor of the week's prize. It is like guessing on the color of next year's automobile licenses, or the 1928 Democratic nominee for the presidency—there are so many possible guesses. That's the fun of it. Just about the time one considers the contest as limited to the three or four leaders, here comes a "dark horse" and elbows his way to the head of the list. "The fight is on!" Leaders, watch to your laurels.

The unexpected happened this week when the report of a committee was rejected by the men of South Hall "to break precedent." And it was a perfectly good precedent, too. At least no reason for changing the time-honored order of things was given.

After an organization chooses some of its own members to serve on a committee, which often means that they must spend many hours to complete their task, it does seem that their report should not be rejected without some valid reason.

Of course, any organization has a right to reject reports submitted by a committee. Evidently some of the young men felt that this privilege might be lost to the human race if it were allowed to remain unnoticed longer.

We are now waiting patiently for some bright young man to present to the august assembly of gentlemen concerned, a new plan for choosing and electing officers for student activities. The best one we can think of is to put the leaders of the "break the precedent" idea on the next ten nominating committees appointed by the students.

Evidently the idea of asking questions during the Sabbath school review is gaining in popularity with the "reviewer" only. Perhaps it ought to be compulsory for the one who conducts the review to issue a warning thirty days in advance to the person he expects to question during the review.

Our idea of the world's hardest job would be to keep all the leaves raked off the lawn during this month.

PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS

Teacher: Do you have your card from the business office?

Student: Oh, I forgot and left it home this morning.

The foregoing dialogue was heard in so many classes last week that it seems necessary to give some practical suggestions for keeping track of those valuable little cards which state that all is well so far as financial affairs are concerned.

Here are some schemes that have helped others to remember:

Bert McBroom pins his card to the upper right-hand side of his sweater. This makes it easy for the teacher to see.

Elsa Emery attaches her card to the tie of her dress.

Elden Peterson recommends the deepest inner coat pocket of the second-best suit as the safest parking place for class cards.

Another popular idea is not to have any card at all. Then it's impossible to forget to bring it to class.

THIS IS NO JOKE

Conscientious.—Doesn't it worry you terribly to think you haven't subscribed for your Clock Tower yet?

Heartless.—Certainly not! Why should I worry over other people's troubles?

H. J.—"Did you enjoy the stereopticon lecture?"

L. M.—"Not so much. All I could see was the back of Mr. Hansen's head. When they first started the stereopticon I thought, 'Oh, what a beautiful sunset.'"

What is a scriptorium?

The man who puts the Roman numerals on the front of big libraries.

Professor Jorgensen (in chemistry class): It's impossible to underestimate the intelligence of the average college student.

Professor Louis Hansen has discovered a new law. Here it is: The value of a sermon is directly proportional to the time spent in preparation and inversely proportional to the length of its delivery.

HOW OLD ARE YOU?

One day there came to the court of a king a gray-haired professor who amused the king greatly. He told the monarch a number of things he never knew before, and the king was delighted. But finally it came to a point when the ruler wanted to know the age of the professor; so he thought of a mathematical problem.

"Ahem!" said the king, "I have an interesting sum for you; it is a trial in mental arithmetic. Think of the number of the month of your birth." Now, the professor was sixty years old, and had been born two days before Christmas, so he thought of twelve, December being the twelfth month.

"Yes," answered the professor.

"Multiply it by two," said the king.

"Yes."

"Add five."

"Yes," answered the professor, doing so.

"Now multiply by fifty."

"Yes."

"Add your age."

"Yes."

"Subtract three hundred and sixty-five."

"Yes."

"Add one hundred and fifteen."

"Yes."

"And now," said the king, "might I ask what the result is?"

"Twelve hundred and sixty," replied the professor wonderingly.

"Thank you," said the king. "So you were born in December, sixty years ago, eh?"

"Why, how in the world do you know?" cried the professor.

"Why," retorted the king, "from your answer—twelve hundred and sixty. The month of your birth was the twelfth, and the last two figures give your age."

"Ha, ha, ha!" laughed the professor. "Capital idea! I'll try it on the next person. It's a polite way of finding out people's ages."—Watchman.

GIRLS ORGANIZE FOR GYMNASIUM GAMES

Gymnasium Open for Girls on Sunday, Monday, and Wednesday Afternoons

About forty college girls responded to the call made in chapel Friday morning, October 21, for the girls who wished to play games in the gymnasium.

Miss Lois Morey, instructor in physical education, states that college girls need the spirit of teamwork and the spirit of play, aside from the exercise provided by the games.

The gymnasium is open for the college girls from 3:45 to 5:30 on Sunday and from 1:00 to 2:30 on Monday and Wednesday afternoons. There are twenty-five members in the first year physical education class. The advanced class has twenty-one members. Both meet twice a week. One afternoon is spent in floor drill work and one day in swimming. The class of swimming has eleven members.

"REASON AND EVOLUTION"

"Reason and Evolution," by Zellers, is a new book in the college library. The author dedicated his book to the rowers and not to the floaters.

Humanity, like a stream, has a current and eddies. Those who merely float with a current, no matter how popular, usually get into a mere human eddy, and float round and round and round and almost invariably shout that their movement, though nothing but a circle, is progressing, but rarely become conscious of the fact that it is only the swirling of a noxious pool.

This book, "Reason and Evolution" is not Fundamentalism versus Evolution but is as it suggests: Reason applied to the theory of evolution. It is a plea for refusal to accept the statements of biologists without proof. It aims to counterbalance the decidedly positive position of the dogmatic evolutionist.

"This is my car," shouted the irate motorist to the garage man, "and what I say about it goes."

Just then the mechanic crawled out from under the car and said, "Say 'engine,' Mister."

well. I assure you that we shall tune in on your future concerts, knowing that we shall hear the best in orchestral music excellently rendered."

Miss Olive Heinzman, a former student, writing from Friend, Nebr., says:

"I just must write and tell you how much I appreciate your wonderful Sunday evening programs through Radio Station KFAB. The last one was especially good, and it came to us so perfectly, too. Miss Kiehnhoff's songs were beautiful."

"The Union College program was wonderful," writes J. F. Drenguis, Scribner, Nebr.

M. N. Helligso, Omaha, Nebr., a former Union student, writes:

"Enjoyed the Union College program on my 'Zenith,' especially the Humann quartet, and my old friend Professor Engel's orchestra—with whom I played fifteen years ago."

This note came from John E. Smith, Minneapolis, Minn.:

"Your symphony program came in strong and clear last evening and was very much enjoyed by myself and family. Let us have some more like it."

The Union College radio orchestra, consisting of six violins, three cellos, two flutes, two clarinets, bass viol, cornet, trombone, oboe, and French horn, is conducted by Professor C. C. Engel. Miss Marcella Engel is the accompanist.

The programs are varied by vocal solos by Miss Estelle Kiehnhoff, soprano, and Professor C. C. Engel, violinist. Selections by the Humann brothers are popular features of each program. Professor W. W. Prescott gives addresses on religious subjects.

The radio programs are published in advance in the Clock Tower each week.

WHO CARES?

Who cares for the burden, the night and the rain,

And the long, steep, lonesome road, When at last through the darkness a light shines plain,

When a voice calls "Hail" and a friend draws a rein,

With an arm for the stubborn load. For life is the chance of a friend or two

This side the journey's goal. Though the world be a desert the long night through

Yet the gay flowers bloom and the sky shows blue.

When a soul salutes a soul.

FIRE STARTS IN CHEMISTRY LABORATORY

Dan Butherus Puts out Blaze Caused by Explosion of Chemicals

A fire broke out in the storeroom of the chemistry laboratory, when Dan Butherus, storeroom manager at the chemistry laboratory, allowed moisture to come in contact with sodium peroxide, an oxidizing agent, which immediately bursts into flames when moisture touches it.

Mr. Butherus was refilling containers in the storeroom, when he threw a paper with some of the sodium peroxide on it into the waste-basket. While refilling a bottle of liquid chemicals, a little later, he dropped some of the liquid into the basket.

When these two come in contact with the waste-basket, which consisted of a cardboard box and its contents, they burst into flames. Seeing this Mr. Butherus seized the flaming box and attempted to put it out the window. The basket was so nearly consumed that it fell apart before he could reach the window. Mr. Butherus seized three rubber aprons, hanging close by, and smothered the fire.

No damage was done, but if Mr. Butherus had not kept a level head the fire might have proved disastrous, for there are many highly inflammable and also explosive chemicals in the laboratory.

TWO SABBATH SCHOOL CLASSES REACH GOAL

Entire School Makes Record of Ninety Per Cent

Sabbath, October 22, the classes of the college Sabbath school taught by Miss Hiatt and Miss Rees were perfect in attendance and daily lesson study and also reached their goal in offerings, thus making them the first classes this quarter to reach the goal of one hundred per cent. Professor Thiel's and Miss Olson's classes failed to reach the goal because one member of each class missed out one day on the study of the lesson.

The entire school reached the ninety per cent mark this Sabbath. Mr. Gould, the assistant superintendent, said that it was possible to have a perfect school, and suggested that plans for doing this would be laid before the school soon.

General surprise is expressed at the amount of the offerings that are given each week. The goal of the school was set by combining the individual goals of all the members, making it $45. Since the first Sabbath, however, the offerings have run well over $50. This is the more remarkable as nothing has been done in the way of pulling for offerings.

Sigma Iota Kappa Re-organized

Plans for the re-organization of the Sigma Iota Kappa were presented to the men of South Hall, Thursday evening, October 20, by the house committee. The new provisions, which were adopted by a large majority, provided for the election of a president, a vice-president, a secretary, and a program committee of four members, the president to be a member of the committee but not the chairman. The term of these officers will be fifteen weeks, beginning October 23. The recommendations also provide that the officers shall be nominated by the house committee and elected by a majority vote of the society.

Perhaps one of the most important innovations is that the programs shall be given by inside and outside talent on alternate weeks. More latitude is also allowed to the committees planning the programs in the matter of subjects; since meetings are not limited to the subjects of literature and social ethics as they were last year. The house committee felt that this arrangement would give more room for topics of general interest. They also felt that by having a standing program committee instead of one elected each week, as has formerly been the practise, more continuity would be given to the programs.

Three prayer bands have been organized in the academy. The leaders are Miss Esther Sonnenberg, Miss Orpha Edgerton, and Wilfred Emery.

During the week October 16 to 21, the students had their period examinations.

An academic chorus has been organized with Mrs. G. C. George as leader. Some of the younger college boys and a few high school students have joined. The chorus plans to give two public programs. One is to consist of secular selections and the other is to be a cantata.

Academy Students Choose School Colors

Blue and gray were chosen as the colors for the Union College Academy in their chapel exercises, Tuesday morning, October 18. A committee of four had been appointed to present suggestive color combinations. Four of the six presented were promptly voted down. Blue and gray won over orange and black, the remaining combinations, by a vote of 28 to 22.

FRESHMEN REQUIRED TO ATTEND LECTURES

A series of lectures containing instruction and helpful hints for freshmen are being given for the first time in Union College this year. All 1927 freshmen, fortunate or unfortunate being the prevailing question, are required to attend. Some do it willingly, others don't.

"I'm thankful for freshman lectures. I have received valuable information already," one freshman says emphatically.

"I like freshman lectures because it is one class I don't have to study for," stated one lazy young man.

"I object to the requirement which insists on my taking a course in freshman lectures. The freshmen of other years have evidently survived the shocks without it. Why can't we?" another freshman said.

These and other remarks are heard frequently from that worthy class of students familiarly known as freshmen.

Men of South Hall Reject Report of Committee

The men of South Hall rejected the report of the house committee nominating officers for the Sigma Iota Kappa by a vote of 25 to 51 Tuesday evening, October 24. The nominations were: President, Lester Minner; vice-president, Floyd Gilbert; secretary, Deforest Walker; chairman of the program committee, Merle Smith; members of the house committee, Ellis Storing and Eddie Barr.

After question had been called on each name, the report was rejected as a whole, and Fred Solsky moved to instruct the house committee to submit a new list of names. Dean Wilcox then called for a discussion in order that the house committee might make a more acceptable report. Hubert Teel stated that he voted against it merely to break the precedent of South Hall in accepting every report that was submitted by a committee. Dean Wilcox stated that he considered it a very unwise time to choose to break a precedent, since the matter had ceased to be a party issue and had become a personal issue. He stated further that the same list of names would be submitted again unless some further evidence were presented to the house committee that the names submitted were unsatisfactory; provided that the suggested officers would consent, after such a rebuff, to serve.
